What we do best

- On Anne Young Ward, our highly skilled team works together to deliver exceptional care to our patients and is equipped to handle a range of injuries, from facial fractures to severe soft tissue trauma.
- In addition to trauma surgery, we also provide specialised care for patients requiring reconstructive procedures following cancer surgery.
- Anne Young Ward staff participate in quality improvement programmes to ensure the delivery of the best possible care to our patients.

Overview of the department

Anne Young Ward is a 31-bedded fast-paced ward that specialises in elective or trauma patients having reconstructive plastic or maxillofacial surgeries. Anne Young Ward is a tertiary referral unit for reconstructive plastic surgery and oro-maxillofacial surgery patients both elective and trauma patients. Our highly skilled multidisciplinary team work collaboratively to deliver exceptional care to our patients. We are equipped to handle a wide range of injuries, from facial fractures to severe soft tissue trauma. Apart from trauma surgery, we also provide specialised care for patients requiring reconstructive procedures post cancer surgery.

Testimonials

"Everyone is lovely; I can only say lovely things." – Patient

"I love the specialties of plastics and maxillofacial surgery, it's very interesting and there is so much to learn and see. The ward is very fast-paced which I like. The best part about Anne Young Ward is my colleagues – our team, we all work together to deliver the best standards of patient care." - Staff Nurse

"The best part of Anne Young Ward is the friendly staff; I am happy to come to work." - Healthcare Assistant
