What we do best

We have won the award for the 'Best Clinical Environment for Surgical Wards' for six years consecutively, as voted by our student nurses.

We received the 'Team of the Year' award in 2021 at the annual hospital Staff Recognition Awards ceremony.

We have been finalist on several occasions in design week, which is run with National College of Art & Design.

Overview of the department

Edward Halloran Bennett Ward is a 30-bedded surgical ward, specialising in upper gastrointestinal surgery, urological surgery and breast surgery.

St James's Hospital is the national referral centre for oesophageal and gastric cancers and our highly skilled nurses look after many complex post-operative cases, with many of our patients enrolled in clinical trials.

Our nurses have undertaken targeted educational programs to ensure that our patients receive the highest level of nursing care. Patient experience, patient safety and efficiency of patient care is paramount to our work, and something we as a team take great pride in.
